

THE LOUISVILLE DAILY JOURNAL.

VOLUME XXXVII.

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1867.

NUMBER 269.

KING'S PATENT WROUGHT IRON TUBULAR ARCH BRIDGES

HAVE been in use throughout the Northern States for the last FIVE YEARS, and are superseding all other kinds for Turnpikes, County Roads, & Railroads.

Methods have been laid and put up, and, with but a SINGLE EXCEPTION, have fulfilled every condition and stood every test required of a good bridge.

Being constructed wholly of WROUGHT IRON, upon a plan combining in the greatest degree Economy, Durability, and Strength, they cannot fail to recommend themselves to practical men.

Designed, having acquired the SOLE RIGHT to manufacture and sell the same in the Northern States, is prepared to furnish them.

Reliable and responsible agents wanted.

Circus, lithographs, and prints, giving all the information applicable to

JULIUS BARBAROUX,

HYDRAULIC FOUNDRY AND MACHINE SHOP,

corner of Floyd and Washington Streets, Louisville, KY.

Falls City Terra Cotta Works.

W. C. CULMENY, Proprietor.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

LOUISVILLE JOURNAL

THE FRIDAY-NIGHTERS.
FALL MEETING—THIRD DAY.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 3 A. M.

THEIR CUSTOM A CRASS INJUSTICE TO OUR THEATRICAL MANAGERS—A PLEA FOR ITS ABROGATION.

The caption is rather emphatic, but in treating the subject indicated we don't propose to be snappish or disrespectful. We shall endeavor to discuss the topic altogether by the rules of fairness and reason.

From time immemorial the custom of attending the theater on Friday night has been adhered to by a very numerous class of our citizens, with no other apparent motive than to make a display of their finery and to establish a notoriety for being fashionable. This meretricious habit has been kept up with a zeal and fidelity which, if exercised in a worthless cause, would really distinguish our social "fashionables." Instead, however, of any such reputation, they have gained the just disdise of the intelligent masses, who have aided greatly in defeating the prime object of the drama, and have actually made it unpopular. Their exclusive ideas and methods could not fail to result differently.

It is not in the mere adoption of Friday night as their time of meeting at the theater that the so-called fashionables are unpardonable. Their sin is one of omission rather than of commission. It consists in their neglect to visit the theater on any other occasion than that which the false theater has designated.

Such willing obedience to frivolous fashion is unworthy of our people. It is down-right snobbery. It is a reflection upon the intelligence of the age in which we live.

It is an insult to the sensible and appreciative playgoer. It is ungracious to those who manage our theaters, so liberally and so well. It is, in a word, destructive of the drama's true and noble mission.

An amendment to the constitution, proposed by the efficient librarian, Mr. C. C. Hall, requiring lady members to pay fees hereafter, is to be voted upon to-night.

As the ladies are principally interested in this matter, it is expected that they will be present in force.

We have received from John P. Morton & Co. a copy of Webster's National Pictorial Dictionary, a volume of 1,040 octavo pages, containing more than six hundred pictorial illustrations interspersed throughout the work, and thirty pages of classified addenda, classical, scriptural, geographical, geographical, etc., there is a glossary of Scottish Words and Phrases, very carefully prepared, and having received the revision reading of Prof. Wm. Russell, the distinguished eloquent, himself long a resident of Scotland, and peculiarly qualified to understand and express the true pronunciation of Scottish words. This glossary will be especially valuable and acceptable to the many readers and admirers of Burns, Hogg, Sir Walter Scott, and other eminent Scottish writers, and also a Vocabulary of Perfect and Allowable Rhymes, based upon the corresponding words in Walker's Rhyming Dictionary, but more copious and far more correct.

This work is not designed to supersede or take the place of Webster's New Universal Dictionary, in 1,840 pages royal quarto, containing 3,000 illustrations—an indispensable work to every one who can afford it—but to meet the wishes of many who, for convenience or economy, desire a more condensed and less expensive work.

We take pleasure in recommending it to our readers as a cheap and valuable publication.

Our attention was called last season to the system of warehouse receipts adopted by Messrs. Porter, Fairfax, & Co. of the Louisville Cotton Warehouse, and applied to cotton, flour, grain, and other property. The experience of one season has proved, as we believed it would when it was adopted, that the system is very acceptable to the holders of produce as a means of procuring advances more easily and at less cost than formerly, and to the banks as among the best collateral upon which to loan money. The application of this system to cotton will influence large shipments to this market, as the owner can hold and procure advances on the warehouse receipts at a much less cost than in any other market. It will stimulate the market, as it increases the ability of the buyer to hold larger quantities than his individual capital could pay for.

We are glad to hear that these facts and the successful use of the receipts by Messrs. Porter, Fairfax, & Co. during the past season have induced other parties to adopt them, and that they promise to come into general use.

We met yesterday quite a number of acquaintances among the country merchants thronging our city. The Louisville Hotel is crowded with strangers daily and nightly, and on the streets we see continually a concourse of visitors who have come hither for the purpose of viewing the progress of our flourishing metropolis, and making their annual purchases among our merchants. Despite the low stage of the river, our trade is prosperous beyond the expectations of the most sanguine, and the railroad facilities of our city are now so complete, and far-reaching, that it renders our merchants and manufacturers comparatively independent of water transportation.

The season bids fair to be one of unexampled prosperity in trade and most highly remunerative to our business men, while the wants of those in search of goods will be amply supplied.

THE KENNEDY FARMING CO.—The preliminary trial of young W. B. Kennedy, who stabbed and killed Benjamin Faw at the corner of Third and Jefferson streets last Saturday night, was commenced in the City Court yesterday before J. Hop Price, Esq., pro tem. General Humphrey, Esq., Major Wm. H. Kinney, and J. B. Kinkaid, Esq., appeared for the prosecution. The hour of trial was 11 o'clock A. M. to-day, and the court adjourned.

1st. That they are not countercited.

2d. That, if countercited, it was done in the Treasury Department, and with the original plates, and that should have been avoided by the Department.

2d. That the Department for weeks have made purchases of these bonds, and therefore given purchasers confidence in their genuineness, and for that reason they ought not to be held accountable; inasmuch as they bought and sold only because of the government justifying them in doing so by purchasing a large amount.

We have received from Harper Brothers, of Franklin Square, New York city, two novels, both very readable, entitled "The Curate's Discipline" by Mrs. Elvira, and "Birds of Prey" by M. E. Braddon. Also, from Harper Brothers, a "Manual of Physical Exercises" by Wm. Wood, Instructor in Physical Education. The work treats of gymnastics, calisthenics, rowing, sailing, skating, swimming, fencing, sparring, cricket, base-ball, etc. It is illustrated by 125 cuts.

We have received the annual memorial of the American Colonization Society for the past year. It is very neatly gotten up, and contains much interesting matter concerning Liberia.

BROADWAY SEWER.—The eastern section of this great improvement was finished yesterday by its connection with the western end. It is believed that the whole work will be completed in five weeks. An extra force of workmen has been employed, and they are pushing ahead with the job most industriously.

Lexington has repealed all ordinances forbidding the use of fire-arms.

WOODLAWN RACE COURSE.

FALL MEETING—THIRD DAY.

The attendance at the races has been steadily increasing during the week, and the crowd present yesterday was larger than upon any previous day. A number of ladies were present and seemed to take great interest in the different heats. Xavier's Cornet Band was present and gave the crowd some excellent music, which was duly appreciated when it did not interfere with the pool-sweeping.

THE FIRST RACE.

Was the Jockey Club Purse race, two miles held for all ages. For this there were five entries, as follows: Clay's ch. c. Plangent, Graves's b. c. Counterproof, Ford's b. c. Frank Woolford, Harper's ch. g. Lowdown, and Alexander's ch. c. Alhamira. At the post-swinging Clay was the favorite, Harper second, and Alexander third. The fourth pool sold on yesterday afternoon gives a fair idea of the relative value of the horses: Clay 135, Harper 95, Alexander 75, Ford 15, and Graves 12. For the start on the first heat there was some delay, but finally the go was given, Harper in the lead, Graves second, Alexander third, Clay fourth, and Ford last. At the half-mile pole the positions were unchanged, but coming near the string for the first mile, Harper still had the lead, Clay was second, Alexander third, and Graves fourth. Round the turn they go still well together till they pass the half-mile pole, when Alexander commences to crowd up, evidently playing for the heat. As they emerge from behind the wooded knoll Harper and Alexander are side by side, Graves's Counterproof next, closely followed by Clay. On the second heat the contest becomes exciting, and amid the tumultuous cheering of the excited spectators Alexander speeds under the string winner of the heat and hardly a nose ahead of the swift Lowdown. Time—3:42. The success of Alhamira now insinuates Alexander's backers, and at the pool selling the winner of the first heat stands as the favorite for a few pools, when Clay's backers rally and again bring him out first choice. Harper still sells as third, and Ford and Graves sell together for five dollars in a pool of 145. The betting seems variable, as the backers of each of the three leading horses back their favorites heavily, one after the other. On the start for the second heat Clay is on the lead, Graves fourth, Ford third, Harper fourth and Alexander last. At the half-mile pole the situation remains the same except that Harper is pushing ahead somewhat, coming in third, and Alexander is going up from the rear. Down the home stretch they come at an easy yet rapid rate, Clay first, Harper second, Alexander third, Clay fourth, and Ford and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40; Graves second, Harper third, Alexander fourth, and Ford last. The pool-selling after this heat became much mixed. Clay sold at first choice for the rate of six to one, and sold against the field as 10 to 16. Alexander's backers still had the lead, and were second, Clay fourth, Harper fifth, and Ford last. The next half mile shows the same position, except that Graves crowds up, evidently playing for the heat. Down the home stretch they come at a tearing rate, while the backers of the various horses shout and cheer their favorites. Clay passes under the string in the lead, winning the heat in 3:40

